

Harvest Time

Dear Friends of the IEO Ministry,

Greetings from Sakila. The staff and students are doing well and always pray for you.

This is our harvest time, and the prices for staple crops are getting much better. We have 110 Bible students who get three meals a day plus hungry people from the village who stop by anytime for a hot meal. The staff get hot meals when they are on campus as well as extra dry corn and beans when their food supplies run low. There are other places where we distribute food, like Crower Trade School, the farm, and villages where there are starving people. Also, from time to time villagers stop for extra dry food because they have none.

We are surrounded by people with needs. I never sell food for extra finances, and I will not sell food as the need is too great!

We are thankful to the Lord for people like you who care and respond to the needs, whether it is through prayer, finances to support the ministry, or your sacrifices of time and money to come visit us in Tanzania.

We have been visiting churches around Tanzania, and the churches are growing like mushrooms. It is revival time here in our country!

May God bless you. Philippians 4:19 says, “And my God shall supply all your need according to His riches in glory by Christ Jesus.”

Bishop Eliudi Issangya

Funds Needed

Current prices from the Kikatiti Market:

- One 200 lb. bag of corn $30
(Eliudi needs 200 bags of corn at the cost of $6,000.)
- One 200 lb. bag of beans $60
(Eliudi needs 200 bags of beans at the cost of $12,000.)

The total cost for the corn and beans is $18,000.

Distributing food to villagers (left) and staff

To make a donation toward this food need, please mail a check to the address above or donate online at <http://ieoafrika.org/donate/>.

P.S. If you currently sponsor a child at ChristHope Orphanage, you may send a letter or card only (no packages/gifts this time) to the following address if you mail it by October 8:
(Your child's name), c/o Crystal Garvin, 1715 Seymour Air Park Dr., Seymour, TN 37865

Reflecting The Vision